Symbols of Early American Gravestones

As we look at the symbols on the gravestones of our early American ancestors, one can have a pretty good idea where their values were in life and death. Most of the early designs and artwork of these gravestones were descending ideas from Europe. Religion played a major role in the development of the early American symbols on the monuments left from a generation lost in time.

The Puritan culture is a good example in their use of the foreboding skeleton holding a scythe. This is one of many designs used by this religious community. Both the skeleton and the scythe were symbolic of death, and immediately elicit a perception. The scythe is more symbol-laden, it is a symbol which intellectually represents numerous tenets of Puritan theology. It was literally used to cut grain for harvest.

The Hourglass, Scallop Shell,
Skeleton, Scythe, and Wings.

Extended to the symbolic level of the Puritan gravestone, it represented the central notion that God may cut down in death. The Puritan was uncertain when he would be cut down in death. He had to be vigilant, to be prepared to meet death. Religion was a central cohesive unit of pre-revolutionary America. As the American Revolution ended the country's traditional preoccupation with religion changed. Tombstone carving was followed more from habit than from conviction, and soon the practices went out of fashion altogether. A gravestone most certainly reflected the social and emotional needs of the remaining family members. The gravestones were usually made from local quarried stone, (slate, sandstone, and white marble).

The New England gravestones is not without precedent, for symbols have historically appeared on sepulchral monuments. Most remaining stone monuments belong to the Neolithic, Bronze, and Iron Ages, with menhirs regarded as the 'oldest. The menhir is referred to as the ancestor of the modern tombstone. The stele gravestone is considered the earliest form of graveyard monument, the equivalent of the modern headstone, because of its position at the head of the grave. The direct predecessor of the Puritan gravestone would be the cemetery stones of Great Britain. The headstone or gravestone by the later 14th Century was used in hexagonal form, sometimes carved with the emblem of a bishop or that of Christ with extended arms. A more common design for the late medieval headstone was the maltese cross set within a circle. The New Englander also brought over the idea of the flat tombstone, and most likely it did not have a symbol, though it might have a coat-of-arms.

The symbols of early America vary in design according to the culture and the region where they are found. These symbols have a place in our genealogy. To better understand our New England ancestors religious beliefs, we must look into the meaning of the symbols used on their gravestones. Here are a few examples and their meanings.

- (1). Angels: They symbolize the heavenly host, and are often seen leading the soul towards heaven.
- (2). Architectural Symbols: Death is thought of as the gateway to heaven, an arch carved on a stone suggests a passageway through which the soul travels.
- (3). Arrows: A society that has been threatened by death caused from Indian attacks, has used this symbol quite frequently. The arrow was a symbol for the "dart of death".
- (4). Bible: It symbolizes the word through which one gains revelation.
- (5). Cocks and Peacocks: They represent the fall from grace and also the awakening to repentance.
- (6). Coffins and Urns: Represent the death of the flesh.
- (7). Crowns: Represents the crown of righteousness proclaims the victorious soul, arisen to heaven through Christ.
- (8). Death and Father Time: These two symbols are usually found in conjunction with one another, and have a long -standing symbolic tradition. They are often seen struggling over the lighted candle of life.
- (9). Death's-Head: A skull with extended wings, represents life's brevity and awesome power of death, and symbolically depicting the soul's voyage through death.
- (10). Dove: The symbol of Christian constancy and devotion.
- (11). Flowers arising from the top of an Urn: Flowers have been associated with the life of man, since the time of Christ, symbolizing beauty and brevity of his life.
- (12). Flames arising from the top of an Urn: The flame represents the soul arising in victory out of the ashes of death.
- (13). Geometric Rosettes: Nearly always used in conjunction with soul effigies, they vary in design. It is sometimes found to have replaced the soul effigy altogether.
- (14). Gourds: This symbol was popular in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, it symbolizes both the coming to be and the passing away of earthly life.
- (15). Grapevine: Christ said, "I am the true vine", and often the Church is thought of as the vine, and its members the grapes or branches of the vine.
- (16). Heart: The heart usually represents direct opposition to the symbol of death.
- (17). Heart in the mouth of a Death's-Head: Represents the triumphant soul emerging out of death.
- (18). Heavenly Bodies: The moon, sun, and stars represent the heavenly home of the blessed, and the rising of the soul to heaven.
- (19). Hourglass: Represents the swift passage of life, (Photo #1).
- (20). Imps of Life: Symbolic of the victory of death. Usually shown busy lowering a coffin into a grave.
- (21). Portraits: An actual portrait of the deceased.
- (22). Profile Soul Effigy in the mouth of a Death's-Head: Also a symbol of the soul arising in victory out of death.
- (23). Scallop Shell: This represents man's earthly pilgrimage, (Photo #1).
- (24). Scythe: Represents life may come to an end at any moment, (Photo #1).
- (25). Station-in-Life Symbols: The rank or occupation of the deceased.
- (26). Symbols of the cause of death: They portray how the person died.

- (27). Symbols of the Soul in Flight: Winged soul effigies are souls in flight towards heaven; flying birds are symbols of the soul.
- (28). Tree of Life: Represents either earthly or heavenly life, as well as spiritual values, the Tree of Life symbol was popular during the 1700's.
- (29). Trumpeting Figures: Calling the faithful departed to their final resurrection.
- (30). Urns and Mermaids: Mermaids are traditionally thought of as symbolizing a dual nature; the mermaids of ancient literature were often depicted as sirens whose function it was to bring souls to Proserpina. On New England gravestones, mermaids may be seen carrying the urns containing the mortal remains of the deceased, symbolizing the last step of our earthly journey.
- (31). Wine, the Divine Fluid: Sacramental tankards or chalices were used to symbolize the soul's partaking of heavenly bliss. This symbol is usually found on gravestones of deacons of the church.

Gifts may cut new path in history for old trail

THE COURIER-JOURNAL
LOUISVILLE, KY.
MONDAY,
FEBRUARY 6, 1989.

BYRON
CRAWFORD

Excuse me; I must have gotten hold of some bad histories.

National Park Service historians say Daniel Boone's Trail from North Carolina, through Virginia and Tennessee, to Kentucky is not nationally significant enough to deserve designation as a National Trail, thus making it ineligible for marking by the Park Service.

Funny, I could have sworn that I read somewhere (like in every encyclopedia and Kentucky history that I ever picked up) that through Daniel Boone's efforts — to quote World Book — "the unknown wilderness of the West was opened."

Having gotten that off my chest, let me explain that the aforementioned talk about marking the trail is old news — not widely reported, but old, nonetheless.

In fact, in the early 1980s Congress authorized the Park Service to do a feasibility study of Boone's route into Kentucky as a National Historic Trail.

Public meetings were held in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky — the states cut by the 400-mile trail, sections of which also were known as Wilderness Road, Boone's Trace or Warrior's Path. It was generally expected that National Historic Trail status was forthcoming.

Then came the Park Service historians' curve ball — that Daniel Boone's Trail was not of national significance.

"The rationale that they used — and they had figures — was that there were a lot more people going West by the Ohio River than by coming through the Cumberland Gap," said Wallace Brittain, outdoor-recreation planner with the National Park Service's southeast regional office in Atlanta.

However, Kentucky's state historian, Dr. James Klotter, says he is surprised that Park Service historians did not deem the trail to be of national importance, given the fact that it was the principal land route across the Appalachians into Kentucky and the West.

It wasn't until I stumbled across a March 1988 Park Service news release a few days ago that I learned — much to my dismay — that Daniel Boone's Trail was not of national significance.

In the release, the Park Service explained (in language much nicer than mine) that, since it did not see fit to use its own money to mark the trail, it was soliciting private donations from people in Kentucky and other Boone Trail states, to be used to mark Boone's historic path as a "Heritage Trail."

It was a stroke of public-relations genius, matched only by the aptitude of the Park Service historians who pronounced the trail nationally insignificant.

I decided, after reading the old news release, to call the Park Service and ask how much it had collected.

About $600 has been sent in from Kentucky — $5 from a woman in Somerset and the rest from the Cumberland Valley Development District.

Virginia had sent in about $1,000, and negligible amounts had been received from North Carolina and Tennessee.

STAFF MAP BY MONICA WALTER

A distinctive logo, featuring a silhouette of Boone and his long rifle, has already been designed. The route to be marked, which follows highways corresponding to the actual Boone Trail, passes through Mocksville and Boone in North Carolina; Damascus and Abingdon in Virginia; Elizabethton and Kingsport in Tennessee; and the Kentucky communities of Flat Lick, Hazel Patch and Boonesboro.

If enough private money can be raised to provide signs to mark the trail, Jim Barker of Kentucky's Department of Local Government says the state Department of Transportation will erect the signs.

"I'd say that, to get all the signs we need, it would probably take somewhere between $2,000 and $3,000, but from what money we have, we will be able to start the effort," he said.

Meantime, the Park Service is still taking donations for the project.

Make checks payable to the National Park Service, and be sure to specify that your gift is for the Daniel Boone Heritage Trail and in which state it is to be used.

Donations may be sent to National Park Service, Planning and Federal Program Division, 75 Spring St. S.W., Atlanta, Ga. 30303.

If you don't wish to contribute to the fund for marking the trail, perhaps you could spare them a few dollars to hire some new historians.

GENEALOGICAL SOURCES AVAILABLE
THROUGH THE MORGANTOWN LDS LIBRARY

As genealogists, we often find ourselves needing access to particular county records located in distant places. When this situation arises, a rather inexpensive source can be the microfilmed records which are loaned through the library of The Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

Bowling Green and area researchers may have access to this vast genealogical collection through the LDS Ward located on the Logansport Road near Morgantown, Kentucky, and it is doubtful that one will find a librarian more helpful to the genealogist than Mr. Gateword Minton, keeper of this Ward's library. Mr. Minton has placed in the Kentucky Library (Bowling Green) a copy of the LDS microfiche index, thereby making the use of this wealth of material readily convenient to our local members.

To order microfilm from this collection, follow these three simple steps:

- (1) View microfiche and obtain title and reel number for desired area of interest. (Ex.: Northampton Co., N.C. Deeds, Vols. 12-14, 1802-1810. 0019424)
- (2) Send this information, along with a check in the amount of $3.00 for each reel ordered, to Gateword Minton, 107 Meadowlark Drive, Morgantown, KY 42261. (Make check payable to Morgantown Ward Family History Center.)
- (3) When film arrives (2-3 weeks), Mr. Minton will contact you, at which time you may make an appointment to use the microfilm reader in the Morgantown Ward.

Should you wish the microfilm to remain permanently at this Ward for future reference, you may pay an additional $3.50 fee for this purpose. Otherwise, the film will be returned to the main library in Salt Lake City after a three-week period.

Following is a list of some of the titles which have been retained at this Ward on a permanent basis and can be viewed by anyone upon request and by making an appointment to use the microfilm reader (Mr. Minton can be reached at home by calling 728-2941 or at the Morgantown Ward by calling 728-3491):

GLEANINGS FROM HENRIETTA BENTON JOHNSON'S SCRAPBOOK

Note: The following newspaper clippings (ca. 1846-1922) are from an old scrapbook which was kept by Henrietta Benton Johnson. Most of the clippings are from Bowling Green, KY papers.

25. The engagement of Mrs. Wickliffe Chapman, of this city, to Mr. Walter Chapman, of Frankfort, is announced, the wedding to take place some time in October. The bride-elect is a near relation of ex-Gov. Knott, and was formerly employed in the postoffice. Mr. Chapman is a prominent lawyer of Frankfort.
26. Uncle Yerby Land was 89 last Saturday, and has lived in White county eighty-two years.
27. A CABINET OF CURIOSITIES. IN THE POSSESSION OF DR. JOHN E. YOUNGLOVE--A RECORD OF THE PAST 48 YEARS. Nearly half-a-century ago this spring Dr. John E. Younglove first set his feet on the soil on which the fair city of Bowling Green now stands. He says it was the fairest day he ever experienced when he came ashore from the boat which brought him hither. He has spent a long life here and has succeeded in gathering up a cabinet of curiosities which is well-worth seeing. The "ear of the grape-vine telegraph" (almost everybody who remembers the war knows what this telegraph was, because it was about the only means of obtaining reliable news from the fort) is on display in the window of the drug store opposite the Morehead house.
Dr. Younglove also possess a complete record of all events that have happened in the capital of Warren county for the past 48 years, for he has kept a reliable diary during all the time of his residence here. He can tell one, by referring to his minutes what the state of the weather on any given day of this long period. His reminiscences will be well-worth reading should he ever conclude to place them in print.
28. Poor old Gloster Willis! How many of us remember him away back in our childhood. He was an old man when all of us, now middle-aged, wore knee breeches. He has lived nearly a century, being 98 years of age and bids fair to live out the whole 100 years. Everybody who has resided in Bowling Green since its earliest settlement knew Gloster Willis. He was sort of a factotum and made himself generally useful in all ways. He was town bell-ringer and town-crier for years--a sort of peripatetic advertising medium. If anybody lost a child, or a horse, or a cow, or a pig, Willis was immediately summoned with his bell and made the welkin ring with the announcement of the fact. But he has outlived his usefulness and, being unable to provide for himself, he was sent "over the hills to the poor-house," where he will probably spend his remaining years on earth. He does not like the new arrangement, however, and kicked vigorously when the point of his destination was revealed to him.
29. IN MEMORIAM. CAPT. JOHN ROBINSON DIED MARCH 15th, 1892. When the cold icy fingers of death snuffed out the lamp of Capt. John Robinson's life, the grave never opened to receive all that was mortal of a better and bigger hearted man than he. Having known him for many years, and knowing him as few men are known, I felt a deep pang of sorrow, when the news of his untimely death fell heavily and suddenly upon my ears. He was a man among men and to know him was to honor and love him, for he was all that nature intended him to be--a kind and affectionate husband, a devoted father and a true friend. For many years a boatman, popular and successful, but in the declining days of his long and useful life, he was a worthy and respectful citizen and a man whom any community would be sad to lose. He bore his illness and long suffering with christian fortitude and patience, and died as christians die-- in the hope of a better life to come and a better world to live in forever and forever. But he is no more of earth, gone, forever gone, to that bright and beautiful home not made with hands and where all is peace, love, joy and life everlasting, and where sickness, sorrow and death never come. To his beloved wife and children, I shed the warm tear of sympathy, and I share the sorrow of his many friends in sustaining his irreparable loss. God bless him! [A poem by Will S. Hays follows. Louisville, May 7, '92]

30. SOME OF CUPID'S WORK. THE NUPTIALS OF MR. EDWIN NORRIS AND MISS BETTIE JUNE WILKINS AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH LAST NIGHT. Last evening at the Baptist Church on Main Street, the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. A. Mason, performed the impressive and happy ceremony which united the lives and fortunes of Mr. Edwin Norris, of Dillon, Montana, and Miss Bettie June Wilkins, of this city. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the bridegroom accompanied by his brother, Mr. Gillum Norris, of Louisville, as groomsman, and the bride, accompanied by her sister, Miss Lute Wilkins, as bridesmaid, and followed by Misses Fannie and Jupe Rochester and Josie Underwood, of this city, Miss Clara Allen, of Glasgow, and Messrs Herbert McPherson, Nerge Clark, Robert S. Mitchell, of this place, and Harry Evans, of Louisville, the attendants, proceeded up the broad aisle to the altar keeping step to the wedding march played on the organ by Miss Kitty Covington. Arriving there the twain joined hands and the solemn ceremony of marriage was performed.

The church was decorated with choice flowers and brilliantly lighted. Every seat was occupied by the many friends of the contracting parties. The bride was dressed in a snow white robe with white lace veil and the groom was arrayed in the usual dress suit.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple proceeded to the house of the bride where they received the congratulations of relatives and friends. Later they boarded the train for St. Louis and left for their future home in Montana. They will stop a day or two at St. Louis and Kansas City en route.

The Times tenders its congratulations and best wishes to the twain now made one and hopes they will have a long and happy life together.

31. THOMAS--McFADDEN. Tomorrow in this city at the residence of Mrs. Nancy Runner on Eighth street between State and East Chestnut, H. K. Thomas Jr., and Miss Belle McFadden will be united in marriage. The wedding will be a quiet affair and will be solemnized in the presence of a few of the immediate friends of the bride and groom. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will go to the Capt. E. L. Hines place in the country where they will make their home. The bride to be is a daughter of Elias McFadden, deceased, of the Rockfield neighborhood and is an exceedingly amiable, good woman who is liked by all who know her. Mr. Thomas is well known in this city and belongs to one of the best families of the State and has hundreds of friends. The Times in advance wishes them every happiness.
32. BADLY HURT. DR. J. L. JOHNSON AND WIFE MET WITH AN UNFORTUNATE MISHAP LAST NIGHT. Dr. J. L. Johnson and wife had a most unfortunate experience last night. The doctor was called to the country to attend a man who had been hurt, and Mrs. Johnson went with him. On the way back home, out on the Green Castle pike, the buggy came uncoupled, and both were thrown heavily to the pike and seriously hurt. The doctor had an arm nearly broken and was otherwise pretty badly bruised. Mrs. Johnson was so badly hurt as to be unconscious and the doctor had to carry her in his arms a half mile before a house could be reached. A hack was sent for and they were brought back to the city about 2 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Johnson's head is hurt and concussion of the brain was feared, though she is resting very well today. She is quite seriously hurt, however, and is also suffering from the severe nervous strain. She is receiving the closest attention and her physicians hope for an early improvement in her condition.

33. MISS MAGGIE GOLLADAY. MARRIED IN NASHVILLE RECENTLY TO A PROSPEROUS YOUNG KENTUCKY FARMER. Last Friday a week at the Nicholson House in Nashville Miss Maggie Golladay was united in marriage to Mr. Ben Boyd of Howell, Ky. Miss Golladay had been teaching school for several months at Howell and there met Mr. Boyd, who is one of that section's wealthiest and most intelligent young farmers. An attachment sprang up between them which culminated in the marriage at the Nicholson House. They were accompanied to Nashville by Mr. F. M. Quarls. After the wedding they returned to their future home near Howell, where they were warmly congratulated. Miss Golladay was born and brought up in Bowling Green and was one of the Park City's most talented and prettiest young ladies. She is greatly admired for her many loveable traits of character and her hundreds of friends here wish for her unbounded happiness through life.
34. THE WHEELS CAME OFF. AND SERIOUS INJURY WAS ONLY NARROWLY AVERTED. Dr. George W. Myers while out driving with Miss Page, of Nashville, yesterday evening had an exciting experience. When he turned into Eleventh street from West Chestnut he lost a nut and a wheel came off throwing him and Miss Page to the street. Fortunately, however, the young lady was only slightly hurt and Dr. Myers escaped without injury. They were lucky in not being seriously hurt, and were only saved by having a gentle horse.
- This is the second accident of the kind within the last day or two. On Saturday evening Mr. Jim Young was returning from the fair in a buggy with Miss Leola Landon and at the intersection of Twelfth and State streets one of the buggy wheels came off and both the occupants were thrown out. Mr. Young had an ugly gash cut in his forehead, but Miss Landon escaped without serious injury. Mr. Young was taken to the residence of Dr. J. F. McElroy, near where the accident occurred, and had his wound dressed. After the accident the horse ran away and smashed the buggy all to pieces.

44. MAYFIELD, KY., OCT. 1, 1892. On account of having been in attendance at Washington, at the National Encampment, I could not answer the letter of comrade McKelvey, of course I accepted his statement as to nothing of a personal nature. If he has found Sergeant Peckenpaugh, as he is so much interested about that flag, if Peckenpaugh cannot write a letter giving the facts he could employ McKelvey, as he seems to be a good hand to sling ink.

I was informed, he, Peckenpaugh, was dead, but if he is alive, I stand corrected.

Now, I tried to show that the flag was in its proper place. I will now give some more of the history of the Twelfth after the consolidation. I will first tell how the Twelfth was consolidated in 1862.

Three companies that had been raised for the Thirty-eighth Mounted Infantry, was put in the Twelfth Kentucky Cavalry in December, 1864; four companies of the Sixteenth Kentucky Cavalry was consolidated with the Twelfth Kentucky in July, 1865; two hundred men of the Eleventh Kentucky Cavalry was consolidated with the Twelfth Kentucky, making a total of 876 men with the 814, that was the number raised, making a grand total of 1,690, of this number 30 was killed, 252 discharged on account of wounds and other disabilities; 68 was transferred, 191 died of wounds and sickness, 2 missing, 5 prisoners, 1 not accounted for, 204 deserted, 936 was mustered out.

This regiment saw severe service, was in the following engagements: Owensboro, Horse Shoe Bend, Marrow Bone, followed Gen. J. H. Morgan through Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio, and was at its post when he surrendered near Chester, Ohio, 1863. Having marched 1,100 miles in one month, after a short rest, on August 18, 1863, the Twelfth started to East Tennessee, was in the fight at Carter's Station, Athens, and was surrounded at Philadelphia, and after a fight of three hours they cut their way out with the loss of many men and the gallant Major Delfosse. In the fight and the siege at Knoxville the Twelfth lost that gallant and brave Captain, John Hill, of Co. G. After the siege the regiment was in the fights at Bean's Station, Rutledge, Blain's Cross Roads, Dandridge, Car Mountain, Maysville. After this the regiment was sent back to Kentucky.

In May, 1864, it was ordered back to East Tennessee, joined Sherman at Varnell's Station, Ga., remained with the Twenty-third Army Corps until after the fall of Atlanta; was in the fights at Resaca, Kenesaw Mountain, Stoneman Hill.

The Sixteenth, afterwards the 3d Battalion of the Twelfth, was in the fight at Paducah, Cynthiana, Licking River, Ky., and Cleveland, Jonesboro, Duvall's Ford, Tenn. After the consolidation the Twelfth was with Stoneman at Bluntsville, Bristol, Morian, Abington, Salt works, Glade Spring, and Blue Mountain; after that it was sent back to Kentucky and remounted in February, 1865, did post duty and caught a lot of guerrillas, on the 15th day of March, 1865, left Elizabethtown, Ky., by railroad for Knoxville, Tenn., reached it in due time, went on to Virginia and then to North Carolina; was in the fight at Boone, N.C. and Salisbury, N.C., besides a few small skirmishes. We got back to East Tennessee and thence to Louisville, when the regiment was mustered out August 23, 1865.

Many of the boys have answered the last call, while others are on this side and still proud that they belonged to the Twelfth Kentucky Cavalry.

If she did love her flag, with a kind wish to comrade McKelvey, I will ask any one that can tell who got the flag, to stand up. George W. Saunders, Co. L, Twelfth Ky. Cav.

45. TAYLOR--HURD. At 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Kiah McGinnis, on upper State street, Mr. Robert F. INFORMATION FROM SOCIAL SECURITY APPLICATIONS Social Security Administration Applications show the address of the applicant, date and place of birth, father's name and mother's maiden name. One needs Form F SSA-L997, from any S.S.A. office to obtain a copy of the application form for a deceased relative for Social Security.

The S.S.A. plans to destroy the original 37 million applications for Social Security. They have computerized some of the information, but much of the general information has been omitted. This information will be lost when the original forms are destroyed. The early files include many persons born in the 1860s and 1870s, and many naturalized citizens. It is suggested that letters be written to the Social Security Adm., 6401 Security Blvd., Baltimore, MD 21235, and to your representatives in Congress for assistance to retain these valuable records. PRE 1785 VIRGINIA MARRIAGES If you've had difficulty proving a Virginia marriage for your ancestors, perhaps the following may explain the problem: prior to the Revolution, the Church of England was the only recognized religion in Va. Any marriage performed by other than an Episcopalian minister was considered null and void, the children of such marriage being termed illegitimate and required to be known by their mother's surname.

Act XII of the Virginia Statutes clearly states (in the peculiar language of that era) the penalties and prohibitions for "marrying outside the church":

"None to be marryed but by Minister, nor by them but by lycense, or publishing the bannes. That noe marriage be solemnized nor reputed valid in law but as is made by the ministers according to the laws of England, and that noe ministers marry any persons without lycense from the governour or his deputy, or thrice publication of banes according to the prescription of the rubrick in the common prayer books, which injoynes that if the persons to be marryed dwell in severall parishes the banes must be asked in both parishes, and that the curate of one parish shall not solemnize the matrimony untill he have a certificate from the curate of the other parish, that the banes have been there thrice published, and no objection made against the joyning the parties together, and if any minister shall contrary to this act marry any persons, he shall be fined tenn thousand pounds of tobacco, and any pretended marriage hereafter made by any other than a minister be reputed null, and the children borne out of such marriage of the parents, be esteemed illegitimate and the parents suffer such punishment as by the laws prohibiting ffornication ought to be inflicted."

This situation prevailed until 1785 when all marriages performed in Virginia were declared by statute to be valid under the law.

WATCH OUT FOR THAT BROTHER! According to Donald Lines Jacobus (NGS Newsletter), the term 'brother' in addition to its obvious meaning, could indicate anyone of the following relationships by blood or marriage: 1. the husband of one's sister, 2. the brother of one's wife, 3. the husband of one's sister-in-law, 4. a half-brother, or 5. a stepbrother. Sometimes the term 'brother' did not indicate any relationship by blood or marriage but rather was used to refer to a brother in the church. (Sioux Valley Gen. Soc., Sioux Falls, SD, Jan 1988)

RELICT? - CONSORT? The word relict on a tombstone means that a lady was a widow when she died; the word consort means her husband was alive when she died. (Victoria Co. Texas Gen. Soc., Vol. 6, No. 3)

BEFORE 1880, Ia. did not mean Iowa. It did mean Indiana. Be sure to double check this on those census records, as it can confuse you. (Texarkana U.S.A. Gen. Soc., Winter 1988)

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS More than 15,000 surgical reports and case histories on Union and Confederate Soldiers are in the possession of T. K. Kennedy, P.O. Box 355, Braddock Heights, MD 21702. Remember, if you have trouble locating your Confederate soldier, write the Confederate Descendants Society, P.O. Box 233, Athens, AL 35611.

(ARK-LA-TEX Gen. Assoc., Inc., Shreveport, LA, 3rd Quarterly 1988)

CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS Confederate Research Center, Hill Junior College, Hillsboro, TX, answers inquiries by mail. The center holds the largest collection of its kind in the Southwest, with 3500 books on the Civil War, including official records from the Army and Navy. There also is a comprehensive collection on Hood's Texas Brigade, including service records of all the unit's 6,000 members. Write Harold B. Simpson at the Center.

RAILROAD WORKERS If your ancestor worked for a railroad after 1937, he would have been covered by the Railroad Retirement Act. By writing the Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, IL 60611, and quoting the appropriate Social Security number, they may be able to provide you with the name of the railroad concerned so that you can seek appropriate records.

LOST TOWNS Many towns have had their names changed over the years or no longer exist. If you can't locate a town when researching, write to the following: U.S. Board of Geographic Names, 523 National Center, Reston, VA 22092. (Decatur Gen. Soc., Decatur, IL, Jul 1987)

MONUMENTS AVAILABLE FOR VETERANS A standard headstone or marker will be furnished by the government, at no cost to applicant, for any deceased veteran who was honorably discharged. It makes no difference whether the veteran served during wartime or peacetime. Even some members of the reserve forces may also be eligible.

Applicant need not be a family member but should know that the grave is unmarked and be willing to place the marker when it arrives. These markers are not furnished to supplement an existing monument and may not be used as foot stones.

There is a variety of styles available--including bronze, flat and upright. If you are interested, write to: Monument Service (42), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20420. Ask for VA form 40-1330 and the marker style sheet.

The headstone or marker will be shipped, at government expense, to the person designated on the form.

(Decatur Gen. Soc., Decatur, IL, Jul 1987)

DEED OF GIFT BOOK Have you ever wondered why your ancestor wasn't listed in his father's Will? Many children were given land as a wedding gift or received their inheritance during their parents' lifetime, thus they were not mentioned in their parents' Will. Write the County Clerk in the county and ask if the ancestor is listed in the Deed of Gift Book.

Alexander Chapman Blewett
Research Evaluation

Alexander Chapman Blewett was born 9 January 1832 in Bowling Green, Kentucky<sup>1</sup>. He farmed in that area until about 1888 when he sold his farm and moved with his family to Merced County, California. He married in Kentucky first, Sarah Stone. They had five children, three boys and two girls. Following the death of Sarah, he married her sister Galveston Stone who died about 1901 or 1902 in California. Galveston and Alexander also had five children, three boys and two girls. Alexander died in Livingston, Merced County, California Saturday 1 July 1898. The funeral services were held by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and "the remains were shipped to Bowling Green, Ky., by the noon train accompanied by H. C. Blewett, a son of the deceased."<sup>2</sup> Although it was thought he had been buried in California, he was not. Merced County Cemetery, Merced Evergreen Cemetery, and Winton Cemetery (near Livingston) were all checked for Blewett family but only William C. and his wife are buried in Merced County Cemetery.

The death records in the Merced County Recorder's Office were checked but a death certificate was not located. Although the records begin in 1890, it is not unusual to not find a record until the early 1900s.

The only marriage record found in Merced was that of Henry Blewett and Mary Belle Ward. Probably both of Alexander's marriages took place in Kentucky. All of the children possibly married in Kentucky as well; at least they were not married in Merced County as far as is known.

Although Alexander is thought to have come to California about 1888, he did not register to vote until 1896. He was living in Cressey, a Santa Fe Station about three miles east of Livingston, Merced County<sup>3</sup>. Livingston was the Post Office. Alexander is described as age 64, 5' 8" tall, Fair Complexion, Blue eyes, and gray hair and could read and write.<sup>4</sup> His boys were registered to vote in 1888.

TARRANT'S CEMETERY

I visited a family cemetery located on the old Terry Tarrant homestead north of Greencastle, Warren Co. KY on July 9 and again on July 15, 1988. This cemetery is almost certainly the burial site of Terry and Mary (Patrick) Tarrant and many of their descendents. The cemetery is located approximately 1.2 miles from Greencastle, about 0.75 miles from Barren River and about 200 feet from the south side of Swan Creek. The cemetery is about 40X50 feet and is on a wooded hillside. Five stones are standing:

1. In memory of Lewis Lemond (sic) Died Feb 30th (sic) 1854 Born Jan 9th 1818. Footstone also with L.L.

(This is apparently Terry Tarrant's son-in-law, husband of Melvina. His name appears as Lehman on most records.)

2. Infant of L & M Lemond

3. Albert L. Westeroo(d) Born Dec 13, 1857 Died Sep 7, 1865. Footstone also with AW. (Child unidentified)

4. Mary Tarrants Born July 16, 1809 died June 20, 1856.

(This seems to be Terry's daughter but the dates and the lack of a married name do not fit in with what is otherwise known.)

5. Daniel B. Whalin Born Aug 12, 1851 Died July 13, 1852. Footstone also with DBW.

(First child of John Hartford Whalin and Cynthia Ann Tarrant and a grandson of Terry Tarrant.)

In addition to the 5 carved stones, there are as many as 12 uncarved slabs of native stone and possibly as many as 30 other graves. Recognizing the possibility of fallen stones, I spent about 4 hours (two different trips) probing and digging but found only uncarved slabs and piles of rubble. Despite my lack of success, I feel it is still likely that fallen carved stones may be present.

I was aided in locating the cemetery by Mrs. Sue Hudnall Sensenig and Mr. Bedford Reece. Mrs. Janie Spears of Cross Plains, TN helped with the search for fallen stones.

FAIRVIEW CEMETERY; BOWLING GREEN, WARREN COUNTY, KENTUCKY (1867-April 30, 1988), 2 volumes, compiled by Barbara Oliver Ford and Patricia Ennis Reid. Volumes are 8½ x 11, soft cover, total 750 pp., full-name index. Price $50.00 (for the two volumes), plus $2.50 postage & handling (KY residents add 5% sales tax). Order from the compilers at P.O. Box 70034, Bowling Green, KY 42102-7034.

Fairview Cemetery is the first published record of Bowling Green and Warren County's largest cemetery. These two volumes are compiled from original interment records, death certificates and tombstone inscriptions and contain over 22,000 entries arranged by sections with each person's burial location, birth, and death or burial dates listed. Maps of each section are included. Volume I includes the north side of the cemetery (or "old side," as it is locally known). Volume II includes the south side (or "new side"), the Davis-Hoffman Memorial Military Cemetery and the index to both volumes.

Whereby burials began in Fairview Cemetery in 1867, many families purchased family plots and moved the remains of their relatives from the older Pioneer Cemetery (Bowling Green's first cemetery) to Fairview. Therefore, death dates in Volume I predate the year 1867.

Ford and Reid are Warren County natives who have put forth a most conscientious effort on this publication--a must for the serious Warren County genealogical researcher.
